Noblis Named to Ethisphere's List of "World's Most Ethical Companies" for the Third Time

Award Recognizes Exceptional Ethical Leadership Actively Upheld within Various Industries

FALLS CHURCH, Va.—March 17, 2011—Noblis, Inc., a science, technology and strategy organization, has been recognized in the Business Services category as one of the 2011 World's Most Ethical Companies by the Ethisphere Institute. This is the third year that Noblis has secured a spot on the list by implementing upright business practices and initiatives that contribute to the company's success, benefit the community, and raise the bar for ethical standards within the industry.

"We are honored and proud to be recognized, once again, as one of the World's Most Ethical Companies," says Noblis President and CEO Amr EISawy.

"Ethics is a core value for Noblis, one that we practice every day. At Noblis, we set rigorous ethical standards for everyday behavior including professionalism, courtesy, integrity, and civility, and we expect everyone, especially our leaders, to model those behaviors. By implementing and promoting ethical business practices and behavior, we are able to do what's right for our employees, our clients, and the public that we serve. We are proud that our efforts have been noticed and to receive national recognition for being an ethical company," added Vice President, General Counsel & Secretary, and Chief Ethics and Compliance Officer, Sherry Rhodes.

This is the fifth year that Ethisphere, a think-tank dedicated to the creation, advancement and sharing of best practices in business ethics, corporate social responsibility, anti-corruption and sustainability, has published the World's Most Ethical rankings, which appear in Ethisphere Magazine's Q1 issue.

Ethisphere reviewed thousands of companies and evaluated a record number of applications utilizing its propriety methodology through in-depth research and multi-step analysis, naming 110 companies that surpassed their industry peers to this year's World's Most Ethical Companies list. The 2011 list features companies in 38 industries including 43 companies headquartered outside the United States.

The methodology for the World's Most Ethical ranking includes reviewing codes of ethics, litigation and regulatory infraction histories; evaluating the investment in innovation and sustainable business practices; looking at activities designed to improve corporate citizenship; and studying nominations from senior executives, industry peers, suppliers and customers.

"Each year, the competition gets more intense for the World's Most Ethical Companies and this year was no exception with a record number of organizations vying for this distinguished honor," says Alex Brigham, Executive Director of the Ethisphere Institute. "Ethisphere congratulates Noblis on being one of the World's Most Ethical Companies for 2011."
